BOOK ALERT!

The love of cars and the love of travelling go hand in hand. Veteran automotive journalist Bob Rupani takes this a step further with his love for wildlife through his new book 'Tracking the Tiger – 50 Days in India's Best Tiger Reserves'. What makes this book unique though is that all the photographs featured in it were taken in the 50 days that the author spent on paid Tiger Safaris in various Indian reserves. There is no better way of getting a first-hand account of Bob's journey tracking the tiger! The project was supported by Land Rover and the Born Free Foundation. Grab your copy today!
